I started stripping for the money. I had college loans that were suffocating me and I wanted them GONE. In six months. While the rest of my college pals shopped for suits and resume paper, I looked longingly at the mysterious bars and fetish wear emporiums on the wrong side of the street. Soon they were working for poverty wages at non-governmental organizations and I was getting naked for Hundred Dollar Dave.

I bet I made twice what they did. But at the end of the month, I was always broke. For four years, I worried about making my rent at the end of the month and it stressed thefuck out of me. Then I got a little checkbook-sized file thingy for stashing my cash.

So many strippers I know are perpetually broke. It’s not like they have mega coke habits or even outrageous addictions to lipsticks and shoes. They just spend it when they got it, and don’t worry about it until they don’t. Suddenly it’s September 30th and you’ve got two more shifts to get your shit together by the fifth. That’s no fun.

But it’s easy to change this. Get a checkbook-sized file thingy and read on!

Money 101

#1: Have a goal. I wanted to go to Africa again and see Paris before the world ended. I needed a TRAVEL FUND. But you can have anything! A buy-a-house fund, a hire-a-hitman-to-kill-the-ex fund, a miniature Yorkshire terrier fund.... but it has to be something you really want, not just need. A FUN FUND. Put $20 in this fund rain or shine. Whether you make $500 or $49.

#2: Figure out your monthly bills. Say your rent is $600, your phone is $50, your utilities are $150. You need $800. That’s $200 a week. That’s a LOT. Are you working four shifts a week? Put $50 in a bills fund after every shift.

#3: Credit cards are evil. CUT THEM UP.

#3b: How much credit card debt do you have? Sock away two twenties every shift til it’s gone. I paid off $30,000 by doing this.

NOTE: Divvying up your big take on Day One sucks as you see $300 quickly shrink to a little pile of grocery money. But on Days Three and Four, when you suddenly have one-third of your rent and money for your Visa bill, you start to get into it. The accumulation of dollars slowly becomes more fun than spending money you don’t really have.

#4: ADVANCED TECHNIQUE — Once you’ve mastered the basics, you can get funky with it. Got a haircut coming up? Throw $20 into a beauty fund. Dude’s birthday round the corner? Throw $20 into a birthday fund. Strippers survive solely on cash. It’s waaaay too easy to think the $500 you scored on Friday is all fun money. Hey, most of it is! But if you get used to tucking away the first hundred or hundred-and-a-half, your fun money is a lot more fun.

#5: WAY ADVANCED TECHNIQUE — It usually only occurs to lifer strippers towards the end of their careers that most people have “retirement” funds. The Man they work for knows eventually their knees and hips and brains will whither and they’ll be useless but still have rent/ mortgages/ phone bills. Ever heard of a ROTH IRA? It’s for chicks like you! You can put up to $3000 into a Roth every year. They don’t care where it comes from—could be your grandma, your daddy, your sugardaddy. You get a great interest rate, and the interest you earn is tax-free.

Most strippers I know don’t think much past next week. But when you realize that stripping is the THE BEST JOB YOU WILL EVER HAVE where you make the MOST MONEY in the LEAST AMOUNT OF TIME you will start to make adjustments for the future. Start simply. You tip out 10% or more to bar staff, right? Well, pay yourself 10%, too. That money goes straight to the bank. This gets fun after a year or so, when all of a sudden you’ve amassed five thousand dollars. Then you can think of other smart-ass investment opportunities, like buying a house or your very own lingerie modeling studio or fucking around in a stupid punk band like me. Yee ha!

Dream On Saloon
I think of all the education that I've missed
But then my homework was never quite like this!
—Van Halen, “Hot for Teacher”

Oh teacher I need you like a little child
You got something in you to drive a schoolboy wild
You give me education in the lovesick blues
Help me get straight come out and say
Teacher I, teacher I, teacher I, Teacher I need you
—Elton John, “Teacher I Need You”

As school bells ring throughout Multnomah County and thousands of Portland students return to school this year, several questions nag me:

How do we prevent their teachers from having sex with them?
Failing that, how do we ensure that their sexual relationships are healthy, safe, and satisfying?
And even if they’re none of these things, even if the teacher winds up in prison and the student comes down with an array of eating disorders, why do so many of us find the subject of teacher-student sex so arousing?
These are serious questions, and ones that bear more sober scrutiny than perhaps your average strip-club habitué is capable of mustering. God forbid we should try to UNDERSTAND why our dicks lead us around like dogs on chains.

WASHINGTON STATE EX-TEACHER MARY KAY LETOURNEAU, 42, was recently released from a seven-year prison bid that resulted from her ongoing sexual relationship with Vili Fualaau, a former student who is 21 years her junior.

The case has slalomed in and out of the news for nearly eight years, yielding a TV movie (“All-American Girl”), a cable documentary (“Forbidden Desire”), and a book (“If Loving You Is Wrong”). Note the naughtiness in each of these titles, their steamy-sexy-oh!-la-la tone.

The truth is that Americans are TURNED ON by the Letourneau case, and that’s why it’s received such huge attention. The major media don’t dangle anything before us which, despite how twisted or sublimated or non-sexual it might seem, doesn’t stroke our deepest libidinal impulses.

“He dominated me in the most masculine way that any man, any leader, could do,” Letourneau would say of the cockroachy-looking Samoan-American student who was only 13 when, as her 34-year-old teacher, she first bedded him. Letourneau, who at the time was married with four children, eventually popped out two more saplings conceived from what Fualaau estimates were three or four hundred rounds of unprotected rutting.

Fualaau first became Letourneau’s student in 1989 as a second-grader. In the sixth grade, he again found himself Letourneau’s pupil. Letourneau, by that time weary of a loveless, sexless marriage, formed a romantic attachment to her gangsta-stylee student. Even during summer break, she’d constantly have him as a houseguest, allowing him to smoke cigarettes indoors and endlessly complimenting him to her husband. This gradually grated on Steve Letourneau’s nerves. After one family blowup in the summer of 1996, Vili ran out of the house to avoid a confrontation with Steve.

Only days later, they fucked for the first time.

HOT HOT HOT. Middle-aged white cuckold husband shamed by THIRTEEN-year-old Samoan boy. Teacher’s out fucking her student while castrated hubby sits home and takes care of the kids.

Fucking in her car and in her husband’s bed and in school closets. Thick brown Samoan boycock pounding fertile teachercunt. She’s getting her first good dick in years—maybe ever. He’s gorging on her like she’s a smorgasbord. Little teacher’s pet...petting her pussy. She’s teaching him, all right. Teaching him all anyone ever really needs to know.

THEY FUCKED ALL SUMMER and well into the winter. In late February of 1997, with Mary Kay visibly pregnant, Steve Letourneau discovered that not only wasn’t the baby his, it had been fathered by his wife’s little pet, who’d been hammering her for months. A day after Steve’s discovery, his cousin ratted out Mary Kay to a school-district administrator. The next day, Mary Kay was arrested and charged with statutory rape.

A law that only applies to male offenders in other states such as California, statch-rape is gender-neutral in Washington.
Three months after her arrest, Mary Kay bore her first child from Vili. In August of 1997, she pled guilty to two counts of second-degree child rape. She was forced to spend 80 days in jail and forbidden from further contact with Fualaau under threat of imprisonment for up to eight years. Less than a month after her release, police again found her behind her van’s steamed-up windows, caught in flagrante delicto with Vili.

She couldn’t stay away from that cock.

The vehicle contained extra clothing and $6,200 in cash, leading authorities to believe the pair intended to vamoose without a trace. Letourneau appeared in court three days later, looking disoriented and well-fucked. Her probation was revoked, and she began a prison sentence that only ended this August. In 1998, while imprisoned, she bore her second child from Vili, who cared for their two children while living with his mother. Letourneau’s husband divorced her and moved with their kids to Alaska.

Mary Kay, the daughter of a right-wing California congressman who’d been forced out of public life when his extramarital affair became publicized, found that most of her own family members abandoned her, too. She was left with only a prison cell and her memories of Vili.

And the world continued to argue whether it was love or rape.

Remember when the magic started, but it still seemed only safe to send our feelings through music and movie themes? Do you remember when I knew we needed each other each day, constantly, when ‘I love you’ was disguised so we could say it all day in front of everyone? All the love songs seem to have been written for us.

—love letter from Letourneau to Fualaau

MARY KAY INSISTED IT WAS LOVE.

She noted that even Vili’s mother pled with the judge for lenience, believing that her son and Letourneau were possibly in love. For the length of her sentence, she professed undying affection for Vili. Even when he said he’d lost feelings for her, even when almost everyone in the world was certain that he was out there fucking teenaged girls while she sat in a cell, Mary Kay never wavered in her conviction that theirs had been a deep, mature, undying love that would blossom again upon her release.

"I would never regret my relationship with Vili Fualaau," she told a reporter while in prison. "I wish for everybody in life that they would be blessed with such a mutually loving and respectful relationship."

Sad, really.

DID SHE RAPE HIM? Some would argue that she operated like a classic predator, abusing her power to ensnare a gullible victim through sex.

There’s an undeniable double standard regarding gender and adult-child relationships. If Letourneau had been a man and Fualaau a young girl, there’d be no grey area here, no question of whether it was love, and certainly not the merest murmur of whether the sex might have been good.

But is it POSSIBLE for most thirteen-year-old boys, with their constant erections and twenty-four-hour obsession with getting laid, to be raped? When I was thirteen, my DREAM would have been to be "raped" by a teacher…or even a god-damned nun. In other cultures and at other times, thirteen-year-olds are considered adults. And since most "children" that age are able to reproduce—young Vili knocked up Mary Kay twice—nature apparently considers them adults, too. Our culture suffers from a delusion that thirteen-year-olds are unable of willful acts, of being smart, wise, or manipulative. And one doesn’t dare MENTION the fact that they’re highly sexual, maybe more so than any adult.

From all accounts, Vili initiated sex between the two of them. He’d even bet a fellow student $20 that he’d be able to seduce Letourneau. Much later, he pocketed thousands by telling his story to a tabloid. And he unsuccessfully tried suing the school district for his "victimization."

AT FUALAAU’S REQUEST, a judge lifted a no-contact order between the two shortly after Letourneau’s release. Since Vili is legally an adult, it’s impossible that Mary Kay can commit statutory rape against him again. It’s possible they’ll fall deeply in love again and silence those who’ve cried rape all these years. Or, most likely, they’ll have some good sex and drift apart.

I predict that Fualaau will dump her, leaving her emotionally shattered. Vili will be fine; Mary Kay will be a wreck. And after a seven-year prison stretch, the loss of her family, and public humiliation, it will become clear who the victim was in this case all along. That student turned his teacher into a ruined whore. That li’l boy with the hot brown cock left her le-turned-out.

From www.shotgunparty.com: “Can and bottle openers have been around for a very long time. Up until now, people at parties Shot Gunning beers have to painstakingly stab a hole in the can with knives, keys and etc. This process can be difficult and possibly dangerous....Up until now no one has a safe can opener for the bottom of a can just for this very purpose. As an added benefit, it also includes a can tab opener and a bottle cap opener.”

Back to School!

Does that mean there'll be more teenage strippers, back from vacation? Or less, 'cause they're back in school? Only one way to find out...

Exotica is hosting a Labor Day BBQ on September 4th. Then, on the fifteenth, you can tell your favorite stripper how much she means to you at their Entertainer Appreciation Party. The gals return the favor at Exotica’s Second Annual Welcome to the Jungle Party for V.I.P.’s on September 25th.

Soak up the last heat of summer and watch girls shake it to the best local beats at the Hispanic DJ Spin-Off Party at Roc’s Dollhouse on September 18th. The following Saturday, September 25th, is Bikes, Babes and Brawls at Safari, featuring pro cage fighting and a burnout pit, with over fifty of Portland’s most beautiful entertainers on hand to scrub down your bike.

Dancin’ Bare has a whole month of naughty fun planned. September 16th is a good old-fashioned Wet T-Shirt Contest, and on the 18th is a good old-fashioned Amateur Night. The following Saturday, the 25th, is a good old-fashioned Burlesque Show. Finally, on the 30th, it’s a Double Date Party, featuring two girls on every stage and good old-fashioned twins Danny and Daisy.

Monday Night Football is back! i.e. don’t schedule yourself, girls, unless you’re working at Stars with their free football buffet and Seahawks tickets giveaways or the Pallas, which has all-you-can-eat tacos for only $2 during the game. Jody’s features football, prizes and specials not only on Mondays, but every night of the week! Stars Salem hosts Monday Night Football Parties in their sports bar, followed by Topless Twister for More-On Mondays. Free steak dinner from 6-9pm with paid admission. And don’t miss their Blues BBQ and Hot Rod Cruise-In on September 19th!

Hair Force One DVD Release Party

They may not have taken the cake at Redbull’s Flügtag, but they walked away with the Audience Choice Award, an appearance on Letterman, and a shit-hot DVD! The world premiere of HAIR FORCE ONE is happening right here on September 9th at Dante’s. Exotic saw a sneak preview and gives it an unqualified two thumbs up!

The “I Need Sex” Sessions

Coco Cobra and the Killers first CD, The “I Need Sex” Sessions, has just been released on We Are Going to Eat You Records. Buy it on-line for like eight bucks at interpunk.com or check out your local independent music store. East Coast college radio stations are already playing the fuck out of “I Hate You,” “Say Mama” and “She’s Killing You.” [No, Dr. Paul, the songs are NOT about Angelo.] Watch for a CD release party later in the month at Devils Point, or catch Coco at the First Annual Neil Goldschmidt Benefit at the Paris Theater on September 5th or at Bad Juju’s Birthday Bash at the Shanghai Steakery on September 18th.

New Kids on the Block

Check out Fat Cobra Video, a “glorious late-night arcade with massive dildo selection” on the new Interstate Max line. Call them @ 503-24/7-DICK. Or, if you prefer live ladies to pale rubber imitations, visit Jardin—a classy new lingerie modeling studio at 5427 SE 72nd.

Backless G-String Unveiled

We talked, they listened. Goaded into action by Viva’s August column “Crack Patrol,” a mom’n’pop Aussie duo has finally invented the world’s first backless underwear. Designed for gals who can’t bear to show string but would rather die than go panty-less, these just might be a hit at the clubs. Critic Robert Baldwin says, “These remind me of the jock straps I used to wear in high school.” Others are fascinated by the bra-strap-like contraption. “It looks like it’d be really fun to chew on!” said one admirer.

Jan and Chuck Digney have spent $300,000 on the first run of 35,000. Patents are pending.

The Lucky Thirteens are a Portland supergroup. They formed seven years ago when Bradley of Weaklings infamy was sober. Needing to channel his near-mythic drunken shenanigans into something, anything, he formed the Thirteens. Sunglasses-after-dark Sten from the Oblivion Seekers penned a couple dozen songs for the group, tall tattooed bass player Jedediah from the Gnash/ the Atoms/ Roger Nusic signed on, and Nervous Christian Jeff Larsen played rhythm guitar. A drummer almost always showed up, too.

The boys were red hot. Turns out Bradley really shines in a suit, singing Dean Martin-tinged rockers. More chicks showed up to Lucky Thirteens shows than you ever saw at a Weaklings engagement. And, knowing better than anyone that chicks love you more the worse you treat ‘em, the Thirteens played maybe two or three times a year, and then not at all.

Then this whole Neil Goldschmidt debacle went down and the boys figured it was high time to take the stage again. They’re headlining a back-to-school all-ages bash at the Paris Theater featuring Portland’s favorite spit and grit bands. For a fraction of their allowance kids can see the Thirteens, the Weaklings, Diesto, Coco Cobra and the Killers, and Space Lord. Plus there’ll be DJ’s, contests, and prizes galore, including a date with the Lucky Thirteens (ALL of them) and a FREE NEIL GOLDSCHMIDT TATTOO from Tigerlily. Girls fourteen and under get in FREE. There’ll be an underage banana eating contest (boys AND girls), an under-eighteen stripper contest (winner gets a fake I.D.) and an underage wet t-shirt contest (chicks only). Fuck yeah!

VIVA: I’m so excited to see the Lucky Thirteens back in action. Compared to the Weaklings the Thirteens seem...
Bradley: It’s sooo much darker.
Jedediah: There’s a lot more hook to it.
Bradley: Sten keeps it really simple the way he writes. It’s straight beat music. His whole idea is take something from the fifties that was so overdone then. Do it now and it’s authentic and it’s fresh. But the songs are just dirty. With Jed playing bass that’s really fuckin’ meaty and crazy... it’s just dirtier. And a lot of the lyrical content... I was really pissed off at women for a really long time and it’s really attacking and mean.
VIVA [deadpans]: Why were you pissed off at women?
Bradley: Cause they piss me off!!
VIVA: I used to get naked to the Lucky Thirteens’ “I Don’t Wanna Be Loved.” Do you guys not want to be loved?
Bradley: We just don’t want any fucking balls and chains, man.
VIVA: God I’ve heard so many strippers crying over you in the dressing room. What is it?
Do you have some magical sex trick?
Bradley: I don’t know. Giving them what they need!
VIVA: Ha ha. Until...
Bradley: Until I don’t care any more! And then I split! I mean, we’re all adults here. You do it for a while and then you move on.
Jedediah: You do it ‘til you’re satisfied.
VIVA: Jedediah I’ve heard many ladies crying over you, too. I understand one of them has your name tattooed over her pussy. What’s your secret?
Jedediah: It’s like I said earlier. You do it until you’re satisfied.
VIVA: What about fisting?
Bradley: Once you fist somebody you can never hang out with them again. That’s a rule. Cause then every time ya fuck ‘em ya have to fist ‘em. There’s no turning back once you bring in the fist!
Jedediah: I disagree. What my father told me is once you fist a woman she’ll never leave ya.
VIVA: What’s Sten’s secret for getting all the ladies?
Bradley: Well, it’s pretty similar to Ike Turner’s: a fuckin’ huge dick and a fist.
Jedediah: He’s the largest member of the Thirteens.
VIVA: What about the black drummer?
Bradley: Hey! Joe’s new! This’ll be his first show, so we’ll have to see.
Jedediah: We’ve got to light him on fire first.

VIVA: Do you guys ever pay for drinks?
Jedediah: No.
Bradley: I haven’t paid for drinks in four years! Before that I was sober!

VIVA: Sixteen year old girls have their advantages and disadvantages. What should every sixteen year old girl know?
Jedediah: Well, there’s the separate key to the garage...
Bradley: To bring their wallet. Bring mom’s credit card.
Jedediah: And Daddy’s car.
Bradley: And you will go far... with the Lucky Thirteens!

VIVA: How young is too young?
Jedediah: If you’re too young to lie.
Bradley: Yeah. I got to snack on some older women when I was like fifteen, and that was a treasure chest, know what I mean? I learned things, things that left permanent stains on my memory. It’s not something that everyone has to experience, but you, know, a lot of people do. I’ve never plowed a fuckin’ teenager. But I know teenagers need to be plowed.
VIVA: What? Never?
Jedediah: Since when?
Bradley: Since never! Even when I was a teenager I never fucked a teenager. I always fucked older women. And the youngest I’ve gone as an adult is, maybe, 23. Cause I like someone who knows what the fuck they’re doing. You know what I mean. Jed? How many teenagers have you snacked on?
Jedediah: I’m trying to think!
Bradley: I snacked on my babysitter when I was nine!

VIVA: Where? Titties?
Bradley: Phoenix, Arizona.

VIVA: No—what parts?
Bradley: Everything! It’s not like I came.... She was my babysitter. I snacked on her. In my mom’s bed. And then, whatever, I think I’m not fabricating anything here, but I think she snacked on my brother, too. And he was seven.

VIVA: So, Jed. Ever been molested by an older woman?
Jedediah: Twice. In eleventh grade. I was working at the Cinnabon.
Bradley: Ha ha! “I got molested by an older woman at the Cinnabon!”
Jedediah: It wasn’t sexy at all. And the other one was a nurse I met through the personal ads.

VIVA: Wait, wait. What did her ad say? “Looking for teenage boy to molest?”
Jedediah: No, I put in the personal ad. She answered mine. I lied, said I was eighteen. “Single white male, into short shorts, bread products and good times."

VIVA: Bread products? Like Cinnabons? Can you eat Cinnabons anymore?
Jedediah: Every once in a while.

VIVA: So, why exactly does Neil Goldschmidt need our help?
Bradley: Like we’ve already covered, who hasn’t snacked on anyone older than them?

VIVA: Or younger than them. So is this like an awareness-raising benefit?
Bradley: Well, we’re hoping to make a lot of money, of course. But whatever. We hate all politicians and stuff and this is just our way of rubbing their noses in it. It’s like come on! This is fucking so funny, I have to do this. The Neil Goldschmidt thing is really just the hook to piss people off. What it really is is just a back to school blow out with a lot of really cool bands. The First Annual Neil Goldschmidt Benefit.

VIVA: Annual?! Could you list, for the record, the line-up?
Bradley: The Lucky Thirteens, Space Lord, the Weaklings, Diesto, and Coco Cobra and the Killers. There’s gonna be DJ’s, an eighteen-and-under wet t-shirt contest, Larry Flynt is gonna be there as guest MC...

VIVA: Are you gonna advertise this appropriately? Like at schools and on KNRK and whatnot?
Bradley: Of course I withdraw, Viva! I’ve got to come on her face!

It’s that time again baby for ya boy to put you up on whatz really crackin’ around the town. In this month’s article I’ll be focusing on a few Portland spots that are definitely worth checking out. I also had the chance to interview one of the hottest DJ’s in the adult entertainment business. This cat ain’t NO JOKE!

First Up— The Session

My homie Tim Phillips is doing it real BIG every Wednesday night at the ICON. He calls it The Session. There’s a live band jammin’ throughout the night and open mic poetry. Tim told me “Portland has been needing another place for people to showcase their spoken-word skills and hear some excellent live music. The ICON has just that.” The Session will also be catered, and the food is absolutely free, so come early. Doors open at 9:30pm and the show starts at 10:30pm. The cover charge is only $5. No jerseys and no caps. Dress fly baby and I’ll see ya’ll there... I’m out!!!

Next Up— DJ FAM-FAM

I make it fun, and girls around town love how we’re changin’ the Game! —DJ Fam-Fam

As far as a DJ goes, he’s “On Point!” When it comes to being an MC and a host, DJ Fam-Fam shows a lot of love, and definitely has Skilllllz! I was at the Boom Boom Room West a couple weeks ago promoting my party, and Fam-Fam was playing nothing but cutz! One thing I noticed is that he is one of very few strip club DJ’s who plays a lot of music by local artists. That was some cool shit to see! Big ups to you for that!

Later that night I had a chance to holla at the homie and ask him a few questions.

Q. How do you describe your style, Fam-Fam? And what differentiates you from some of the other DJ’s in this industry?

A. I keep it real for the people, and I’m not afraid to play what they want to hear!

Q. The ladies here tonight seem to be really enjoying the energy you bring to the Boom Boom Room. Do you find it hard trying to please everybody?

A. I make it fun, and girls around town love how we’re changin’ the game.

Q. Who are some of the local Portland artists that we might hear you spinnin’ at the club?

A. Some of that Maniac Lok, some YG, and of course some Kan’t B Caught.

Q. What advice would you give to local rappers that are truly trying to get in the game?

A. Just be your-selves, and don’t try to sound like the BAY!

I had a good ass time that night kickin’ at the Boom Boom Room with DJ Fam-Fam, aka “The People’s Choice!” Big ups to Aspen the sexy bartender, too. You make a bomb ass Spanish Coffee girl! Much love also goes out to the sensuous entertainers, Talia, Kylie, Gwen and Marla. Keep it crackin’ ya’ll!

Introducing the VIPER Room

This new club is the shiznit! The Viper Room has it all, from five state-of-the-art hi-definition BIG screen TVs to the futuristic decor (with rock, steel & metal) and an open kitchen. Cucumbers have always been popular for dildo dipping. A Google check will direct you to about a thousand web sites, including sickinsertions.com, which offers up TEXAS DILDO MASSACRE. This vid and a number of others invade the vertical smile not only with cucumbers, but a bounty of bananas, corn on the cob, a can of Pepsi, a sausage, a Louisville Slugger, just about everything except a chainsaw.

Another site, jk-porn.com, adds every girl's favorite accessory to this genre. In between yakking on their cell phones, the babes in HARD CELL give the voicemail box new meaning. All this vid lacks is the use of a picture phone snapping away in the wet forest.

We've strayed a long way from the cucumber already, so let's return to FRESH PRODUCE from Thomas Rand productions. This is mostly a girl-on-girl DVD with Crissy Moran and Laurie Wallace lathering themselves in olive oil and then going at it with cucumbers, carrots and celery sticks. The best scene is the opener which finds the dynamic duo shopping in the produce section of a supermarket. Crissy tells Laurie she wants to make a salad for her boyfriend. Then comes one of those great unexpected moments that makes porn so enriching: Crissy tells Laurie she doesn’t know how to make a salad.

Nothing I like more than collapsing in laughter on my lonely nights with porn. Actually, while I’ve never known a woman—or a man for that matter—who did not know how to make a salad, I do recall one instance from my student days at the U of O that surpasses even Crissy’s dilemma. I worked as a “houseboy” at a sorority house serving the darlings their evening meals. Part of the sorority package included three excellent meals a day served in a dining room where the girls nibbled on chicken cordon bleu and gabbed about frat parties. Only on Saturday mornings were they left to their own devices in the kitchen. One day this snooty rich girl from Portland came in the kitchen, cracked an egg in the pan, then dropped the shell on top of the egg. I thought perhaps this was some sort of delicacy with which I was not familiar, then realized by the quizzical look on her face she’d never fried an egg.

Now the egg, too, has porn possibilities, best explored by the French surrealist Georges Bataille in Story of the Eye. One of the narrator’s girlfriends, Simone, likes to play a game with eggs. She cracks them on the edge of a bidet, then makes the narrator swallow one of the raw eggs from the bottom of the bowl. After this breakfast, the couple sit in the bathroom where Simone always gets excited as the toilet flushes down the remaining eggs. On one occasion the plumbing isn’t working very well and the half-sucked up eggs make a long, gurgling noise on the failed journey downward. Bataille writes: “This incident was so extraordinarily meaningful to Simone that her body tautened and she had a long climax.” Then she “pissed noisily on the bobbing eggs with total vigor and satisfaction.”

Moving on from the eaters and the eaten, I tossed aside Story of the Eye and watched DOUBLE PARKED #7 from Excalibur Films. Aria, Jasmine Rouge, Donna-Marie and Cheyne Collins all get sandwiched between young wood in an unrelenting spectacle of double penetrations. I yearned for the cucumber but for DP fans this will definitely satisfy.

SOUTH OF EDEN from Digital Playground is about a safecracker whose girlfriend, Alexa Rae, stops him in the midst of trying to figure out the combination on a safe so she can give him a blow job. That’s pretty cool, but then for no particular reason she pulls out a gun and puts a bullet in his chest. The rest of the DVD is done in flashbacks which apparently show her motive though I couldn’t figure it out. One good line when the safecracker asks a naked bartender for a drink. He asks for a “whiskey and a side of hot pussy.”

Me, I’m gonna scramble a few eggs and knock ‘em down with a beer.
